What You Missed in April!

The Greater Oklahoma Postal Customer Council (GO-PCC) held their second quarterly business meeting on April 20, at a local steakhouse in Oklahoma City, OK.

The keynote speaker was Arkansas-Oklahoma District Manager Julie Gosdin (left). Gosdin's presentation provided information to enhance customer engagement through the mail, plus an economical return on their investment. Her presentation included:

- Delivering for America Plan
- USPS Connect Local
- Shipping Services and Products
- Every Door Direct Mail
- 2022 USPS Promotional Calendar.

OKC Postmaster/PCC Co-Chair Daniel Reyes provided remarks concerning the upcoming National Postal Forum (NPF), the 30th Annual Letter Carriers Food Drive, and the 22nd Annual GO-PCC Golf Tournament. A total of 33 people attended the meeting, which included six first-time attendees and the GO-PCC gained five new members.

Today's Paper Supply Chain

Supply chain disruptions, transportation network challenges, and various reasons for downtime at mills added stress to the already limited paper market. Add it up and it spells trouble for industries, businesses, and agencies that depend upon paper.

The Greater Oklahoma Postal Customer Council will be hosting a ZOOM educational session consisting of a 3-member panel that will offer tips and recommendations on maintaining your paper supply inventory.
